DeltaNu choose Analytik to distribute world's smallest Raman analysers

Cambridge, UK – Analytik are pleased to announce a new partnership to represent DeltaNu in the UK and Ireland. DeltaNu, a business unit of Intevac Photonics, of Laramie, USA, are the global leader in palm-sized Raman spectrometers.

The DeltaNu analysers, RAPID•ID™ and Reporter™, are compact and lightweight Raman spectrometers with a simple, yet powerful user interface and on-board library for field based materials analysis. RAPID•ID™ was developed for industrial inspection in the medical devices, consumer products, chemical and pharmaceutical industries. Reporter™ was developed for the detection of narcotics and explosives for customs, law enforcement and forensic applications. Both systems are easy to use – offering non-destructive characterisation in seconds.

Ian Laidlaw, Managing Director of Analytik, believes this new partnership with DeltaNu offers great potential for growth, holding the company in good stead for the future;

'As a palm-sized Raman analyser, RAPID•ID™ complements our already strong suite of portable spectroscopy products. RAPID•ID™ addresses the growing need for fast, accurate identification of raw, intermediate and finished products in the industries we currently serve such as pharmaceuticals, medical devices and consumer products. Both technical and non-expert users alike can verify incoming materials, conduct field trials and carry out failure analysis in seconds - supporting lean manufacturing initiatives, reducing waste and meeting ever increasing regulatory compliance requirements. Reporter™ allows us to offer this well established technology to new markets such as law enforcement and customs. I'm delighted to be able to bring such innovative products to the UK and Ireland for the first time.'
