Schmidt + Haensch choose Analytik Ltd as exclusive UK partner

Biggleswade, Beds – Schmidt + Haensch, worldwide market leaders in polarimeter and refractometer solutions, has appointed Analytik Ltd as their exclusive distributor in the United Kingdom.

Based in Berlin, Schmidt + Haensch have been pioneering the technology behind polarimetry and refractometry since 1864. The company have an experience and knowledge of mechanics and optics that is unsurpassed, and their combination of rich tradition and high quality innovation continues today. Analytik Ltd will be responsible for all UK sales of their laboratory as well as process instrumentation.

Tom Greenwell, Marketing Manager of Analytik Ltd had this to say;

"Schmidt + Haensch are a very attractive partner for Analytik. On the surface, polarimeters and refractometers might seem like routine instrumentation, but Schmidt + Haensch have actually pioneered the technology. To this day they have several key patents in place giving their instrumentation unique performance capabilities. Take their DSR-L Multiple Wavelength Refractometer for example; this is the first and only in the world! Schmidt + Haensch's instruments fit in perfectly with Analytik's suite of innovative analytical solutions and we are relishing the opportunity of introducing these to the UK, for lab and process."
